The proverbial saying 'boys will be boys' is used to express resignation at, or even encouragement of, the bad behaviour of boys, imagining it to be an inevitable consequence of their gender. The expression is now quite rightly derided as symptomatic of the sexist notion that boys can do what they like and not be required to take responsibility for their actions.

The phrase boys will be boys was first recorded in English in 1589. It originated from a Latin proverb: “Children (boys) are children (boys) and do childish things.” While a bit obvious, if it had remained intact as such, it wouldn't be so problematic. Children in fact do childish things, and that's to be expected to some degree.
