Living Clean: The Journey Continues

“What Rachel did for me was life changing for me. I lost close to 30lbs and it did not feel like I was starving myself. As my Health Coach, not only did she help me to achieve my weight loss goal, but most importantly she made me feel comfortable with forming new habits necessary for lifestyle change making the transition seamless. I feel healthier - I sleep better, I have more energy, my immune system has improved, my skin has cleared up, my vision has improved and I am able to accomplish more of my goals on a daily basis. Rachel is organized, meticulous, always prepared, caring and results driven and the fact that she leads by example is also an asset, she is a truly life changer.”- Odetta Rockhead Kerr. RESET- Living Clean and Loving It! is a 'How to' guide dedicated to the idea that weight loss can be better realized by first achieving optimal health. Health Coach Rachel Christian identifies and explores the essential connection between our Primary and Secondary Foods and how achieving better balance between them can lead us to a healthier and longer life as well as increased personal and professional fulfilment. In clear and concise detail, Rachel- a self-admitted former serial dieter- shares the tips and techniques she has used to successfully coach her clients, as well as the secrets of her own permanent weight loss success. She achieved this only after embarking on a healthy lifestyle journey, bringing herself closer to optimal health. If you are ready to press Rese- r live lean clean and love your life, this guide is ideal for you! Rachel Christian is a wife, mother and Health Coach who also works alongside her husband in their family business. After several years of struggling with issues she attributed solely to being overweight, she happened upon what she describes as a 'life changing discovery' - that her weight struggle was a symptom of her overall health and that all of her weight loss efforts were counterproductive if her overall health was not first optimized. Passionate about wanting to help others who felt as disempowered as she did, Rachel studied at the Institute of Integrative Nutrition (IIN) and became a certified Health Coach. In observing the close relationship between Optimal Health and Goal Achievement in herself and among her clients, Rachel chose to add the title of Author to her resume with the publication of her first book - RESET- Living Clean and Loving it! In her own words, "RESET is my way of changing the misguided approach often taken toward weight loss. It is my way of showing gratitude to those who have taught me- to pay it forward and share with a wider audience the lessons I have learned, the knowledge I have gained and the results I have observed in so many others over such a short time."

It is a collection of experience and ideas on how to work through issues together, using the principles embodied in the Traditions.

“The Recovering Body offers simple, effective ways for addicts to heal the damage caused by substance abuse. Jennifer Matesa focuses on five areas of healing: through exercise and activity, sleep and rest, nutrition and fuel, sexuality and pleasure, and meditation and awareness”--

Clean(ish) leads readers to a focus on real foods and a healthier home environment free of obvious toxins, without fixating on perfection. By living clean(ish), our bodies’ natural processes become streamlined and more effective, while we enjoy a vibrant life. In Gin Stephens's New York Times bestseller Fast, Feast, Repeat., she showed you how to fast (completely) clean as part of an intermittent fasting lifestyle. Now, whether you’re an intermittent faster or not, Gin shows you how to become clean(ish) where it counts: you'll learn how to shift your choices so you’re not burdening your body with a bucket of chemicals, additives, and obesogens it wasn’t designed to handle. Instead of aiming for perfection (which is impossible) or changing everything at once (which is hard, and rarely leads to lasting results), you'll cut through the confusion, lose the fear, and embrace the freedom that comes from becoming clean(ish). As you learn how to lower your toxic load through small changes, smart swaps, and simple solutions, you'll evolve simply and naturally toward a clean(ish) lifestyle that works for your body and your life!

No matter how big your home or busy your schedule, Rapinchuk believes that in just ten minutes a day your can keep your house clean and decluttered. She shares her system to turn cleaning from a chore into an effortless habit, and also shares recipes for organic, environmentally conscious cleaning supplies.

How to make a fairer, more just city From the grandiose histories of monumental state building projects to the minutiae of street signs and corner cafés, from the rebuilding of capital cities to the provision of the humble public toilet, Clean Living under Difficult Circumstances argues for the city as a socialist project. This essay collection spans a period from immediately before the 2008 financial crash to the year of the pandemic. Against the business-as-usual responses to both crises, Owen Hatherley outlines a vision of the city as both a venue for political debate and dispute as well as a space of everyday experience, one that we shape as much as it shapes us. Incorporated here are the genres of memoir, history, music and film criticism, as well as portraits of figures who have inspired new ways of looking at cities, such as the architect Zaha Hadid, the activist and urbanist Jane Jacobs, and thinkers such as Mark Fisher and Adam Curtis. Throughout these pieces, Hatherley argues that the only way out of our difficult circumstances is to imagine and try to construct a better modernity.
