As such, the Mabinogion is the key collection of medieval Welsh mythology and an important source for early Arthurian material. Although Structuralism and the Mabinogion have attracted a good deal of attention from the academic world, there has been never been a sustained attempt to follow Levi-Strauss' intuitive insights with a methodical Structuralist analysis of this material.

In this lecture, he intuitively suggested that in medieval Europe there once existed a set of myths, centred on the grail, which are structurally the opposite of the goatsucker myths that he famously analyzed in his mythologiques series. This work uses Levi-Strauss' inspirational lecture as a launchpad for an exploration of a group of related medieval Welsh myths, two of which have been briefly considered previously by Levi-Strauss himself.

Welsh Mythology A Neo Structuralist Analysis
By employing a new kind of neo-Structuralist analysis this thesis demonstrates that a coherent structure underlies the medieval Welsh tales that have become collectively known as the Mabinogion. The first part of the thesis examines Lévi-Strauss' Structuralist analysis technique and places it in the context of the wider field of the analysis of myth. The development of the Structuralist technique and the emergence of neo-Structuralism are then explored and pertinent criticisms of ...
